

VMGA's Next Education Event

The Education Committee is planning an education event for September, 2014. The topic of the event is "Permaculture" – exciting new concepts that go far beyond composting and sustainable environmental design.

Plans are still being made. As more details are confirmed, this site will be updated. Announcements will be through both VMGA and VCE channels so no one will miss the event! Check back here again later.

If you'd like to help with this education event, please contact the Education Committee Chair.
